A hand-drawn wireframe of a website header. The header includes a logo placeholder (a square box) with the text "Icon Name" below it. To the right is a navigation menu with links: "Home", "Products", "Company", and "Blog". Below the navigation is a large, stylized, dark, wavy graphic element. Underneath this graphic are four horizontal rectangular boxes of varying heights, likely representing content sections. To the right of these boxes is a block of placeholder text consisting of several lines of random characters and symbols.
